DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

ROBUSTELLI

Andy Robustelli – Director of Operations – Hall of Fame member . . . perennial All-pro . . . team captain . . . former assistant coach . . . successful businessman . . . those are the impressive credentials that Andy Robustelli brings with him in his capacity as Director of Operations for the Giants.

As Director of Operations, Robustelli oversees all field operations of the Giants including coaching, scouting, signing of players, trades and the pre-season training camp.

The 49 year-old Robustelli is one of the great success stories of professional football. A 19th round draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams in 1951 out of little Arnold College in Connecticut, he went on to star with the Rams through 1955, winning All-Pro honors and appearing in two championship games with Los Angeles. He came to the Giants in a 1956 trade and won All-Pro honors consistently. All told, he was an All-NFL selection 9 times during his 14 seasons and appeared in the Pro Bowl nine times as well. He played in six championship games with the Giants, was team defensive captain for six years and was named as the NFL's Most Valuabel Player in 1962.

Robustelli was elected to the Professional Football Hall of Fame in 1971 and was additionally voted into the Helms Football Foundation Hall of Fame. His career with the Giants ended in 1964 after spending his final seasons as a player-defensive coach.

In recent years, Andy has served as President of Robustelli Travel Service, Inc., a group of five travel agencies in Connecticut and has also been associated with the Allied Chemical Company. He has also conducted his own TV show during the football seasons, but remains first and foremost a football man and has grown with professional football over the years.

Robustelli was born December 6, 1926 in Stamford, Conn., graduated from Stamford Public School System and then attended LaSalle Military Academy in Oakdale, L.I. from September 1943 to January 1944. He joined the U.S. Navy in January 1944 and served for two years in the South Pacific, including the invasion of Okinawa. After his discharge, he matriculated to Arnold College, and graduated with a B.S. Degree, majoring in Health and Physical Education. He was named to the Little All-American team for three years and also lettered in baseball.

Drafted by the Rams in 1951, he played five seasons with L.A., winning All-Pro honors three times and playing on two championship teams. Named MVP on defense for the Rams for three consecutive years, he came to the Giants in that 1956 trade, adding to his laurels with six more All-Pro honors and six more championship game appearances. He was an assistant coach-player for his final four seasons.

In addition to his business and television interests, Andy has been the Connecticut chairman of the United Fund and is also a member of the President's Council on Physical Fitness where he organized a business task force for that Council group. He is married to the former Jean Dora and is the father of nine children and still resides in Stamford with his family.

GIANTS' COACHING STAFF

ARNSPARGER

Bill Arnsparger — Head Coach — Three days after his Miami Dolphins' "No Name" defense had throttled the Minnesota Vikings in the 1974 Super Bowl, William Stephen "Bill" Arnsparger became the ninth head coach in Giants' history. He had served under Don Shula for four seasons at Miami, initially as Defensive Coordinator and then as Assistant Head Coach. Bill came to the Dolphins in 1970— one year after Miami had finished with a 3-10-1 record and allowed 332 points scored to the opposition. In Arnsparger's first campaign as chief defensive aide, the Dolphins rose to a 10-4 record and a playoff berth while limiting the opposition to 228 points. In 1971, the record was 10-3-1 with but 174 points allowed and in 1972 when Miami went undefeated en route to a Super Bowl crown, the defense allowed but 171 points, the fewest in the NFL, including three shutouts. In 1973, with a 12-2 record and second Super Bowl title, the Dolphins allowed but 150 points, again the lowest in the NFL, with two shutouts and four other victories in which no touchdowns were allowed. Bill was affiliated with Shula for nine years in the NFL, joining Shula's staff at Baltimore in 1964 as chief defensive aide. He served with the Colts through 1968 on four playoff teams, then rejoined Shula in Miami in 1970. Prior to being named at Baltimore, Arnsparger's coaching background included assistant stints at Tulane (1962-63); Kentucky (1954-61); Ohio State (1951-53), and at his alma mater, Miami of Ohio (1959). Bill was born on December 16, 1926 in Paris, Kentucky and starred as a lineman at Paris High School where his coach was Blanton Collier. After high school, Arnsparger joined the Marines and served as a sargeant from 1944 to 1946 with a year's duty in China. He entered Miami of Ohio after his discharge and played offensive tackle there on teams that also had such players as Ara Parseghian, Paul Dietzel and Bo Schembechler and a head coach named Woody Hayes. In 1950, Arnsparger was named an assistant coach at Miami by Hayes and the following year when Hayes was named head coach at Ohio State, he brought Arnsparger with him as an assistant there. Bill first worked with Shula at Kentucky where the head coach was Blanton Collier, his old high school mentor. That association with Shula carried into the pros for Bill in 1964 and ended in the Miami locker room after the Super Bowl triumph in January of 1974 when Arnsparger was presented a game ball by the Dolphin players. Well respected and admired throughout the National Football League, Arnsparger's credentials are prestigious. Of Dutch descent, Bill married the former Betty Jane Carter in 1959 and is the father of two children, David, 10; and Mary Susan, 7.

SYMANK

Hunter Enis – 3rd Year – Quarterbacks – Enis returned to the coaching lines for the final three games of the 1975 season after having left after the end of the 1974 season to return to his family's business interests in Fort Worth, Tex. The 39 year-old former NFL quarterback had been in the real estate and construction business prior to initially joining the staff in 1974. Prior to that period, Hunter had been offensive backfield coach with the Denver Broncos for five years under Lou Saban from 1967-71. A 6-2, 195-pounder, Enis was a star QB at TCU for three years, winning All-Southwest Conference honors twice and appearing in the Cotton Bowl both of those years. He began his pro career with the Chicago Cardinals of the NFL in 1959, then signed with the then Dallas Texans of the AFL in 1960. He was subsequently a QB with the San Diego Chargers, Denver Broncos and Oakland Raiders in the AFL. Hunter returned to TCU for a Master's degree in 1963, then served as an assistant coach at TCU prior to taking the assistant's job at Denver. A native of Fort Worth, Enis was a three-sport standout at Polytechnic H.S. in his hometown before entering TCU. A veteran of six years in the Air Force Reserve, Enis and his wife, Gloria, have a daughter Jill, 13, and a son James, 9.

John Symank – Defensive Secondary – 3rd Year – The 40 year-old Symank, a former defensive back with the Green Bay Packers, brings a fine blend of collegiate and professional coaching with him to the Giants. For the past 3 years, John was the head coach at the University of Texas at Arlington and prior to that was the head coach for two years at Northern Arizona University. From 1966 through the 1968 season, Symank was defensive backfield coach for the Atlanta Falcons and prior to his tenure with the Falcons was a defensive coach at both the University of Virginia and at Tulane. He was on the same staff at Tulane with Bill Arnsparger. John was both a running back and defensive back at the University of Florida after a transfer from Arlington State Junior College in Texas. He was drafted by the Packers in 1957 and played on championship teams through 1962 before concluding his playing career with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1963. As a rookie safety in 1957, Symank intercepted 9 passes for the Packers to rank second in the NFL that year. The 5-10, 190-pounder was also rated as a rugged tackler. Born on Aug. 31, 1935 in LaGrange Tex., John was a football and track star at Caldwell High School in Caldwell, Tex., and also earned two letters in track at Florida. Symank is married to the former Sariann Bowers and is the father of four children – Sally Ann, 20; twins Cindy and Susan, 18, and John Jr.

PLUMB

Ray Wietecha – Offensive Line – 5th Year – Highly respected aide returns for his fourth season as offensive line coach and the only holdover from previous staff. At No. 12 "future pick of the Giants" in 1950 out of Northwestern, Ray joined the Giants in 1953 after a season in minor league baseball in the Washington Senator's farm system and two years in the Marines as a Captain. He was a center, linebacker and even defensive back in his rookie year, and then went on to become a star center for 10 seasons, winning All-NFL and Pro Bowl honors five times, appearing with five Eastern Division title winners and the NFL championship team of 1956. Wietecha joined the Los Angeles Rams as an assistant coach in 1963, then moved on to the Green Bay Packers under Vince Lombardi from 1965 through 1970 where he was offensive line and running game coach with the championship Packers of that era. He was a Giant scout in 1971, then became offensive line coach in 1972. Ray was born on Nov. 4, 1928 in East Chicago, Ind., and starred at Roosevelt High School in that city. At Northwestern, he was an All-Big 10 choice at center, winning three letters in both football and baseball. Ray is married to the former Joan Warren, is the father of four children—William, 20; Barbara, 19; Donna, 16, and Darren, 15 and lives in Florham Park, N.J.

Ted Plumb – Offensive Backfield – 3rd Year – 36-year-old Plumb had been the offensive backfield coach at Kansas University for the past two seasons where he helped develop All-American David Jaynes. Ted was an outstanding receiver at Baylor for three seasons, playing in both the Gator Bowl and Gotham Bowl. He was drafted by the Buffalo Bills of the AFL in 1962, but a training camp injury cut his pro playing career before it began and he entered the coaching profession. Ted first coached at Raymondville High School in Texas, then at Lubbock H.S. in Lubbock, Tex. He moved on to Cerritos Junior College in California in 1966 and was then named an assistant coach at TCU in 1968. Plumb coached at TCU for three seasons, helping develop Norm Bulaich and Ross Montgomery, then moved on to Tulsa University in 1971 and then to Kansas in 1972. Ted was born on Aug. 20, 1939 in Reno, Nev., moved to California as a youngster and starred at Mount Diablo H.S. in Concord, Calif. in football, basketball and track. He played a year at Mount Diablo Junior College before entering Baylor. Ted and his wife Marianna have three children—Loyal Thomas, 12; John Alan, 11; and Molly, 7.

RUTLEDGE

WEBB

Ed Rutledge – Special Teams – 3rd Year – Veteran coach and scout joins the Giants' staff after five years with the NFL's CEPO scouting organization and rejoins head coach Arnsparger with whom he had previously worked at both Baltimore and the University of Kentucky. With the Colts from 1966 through 1969, Rutledge served under Don Shula as a linebackers coach as well as being the man who scouted the upcoming opponents. His previous association with Shula and Arnsparger was at the University of Kentucky where Rutledge served for seven years from 1956 through 1962 under Blanton Collier as both head freshman coach and varsity offensive backfield coach. Ed was born May 14, 1918 in Ironton, Ohio, played his high school football there and went on to Western Kentucky where he lettered in football (as a two-way end), track and swimming. He spent the next six years in the U.S. Navy (1941-47) as a pilot, reaching the rank of Lieut. Commander with service in the Caribbean and Panama areas. He entered FBI School after discharge and was a special agent in the FBI through 1948 at which time he decided to return to football, taking a job as head coach at Danville H.S. in Kentucky. He also coached at Paducha, Ky. After leaving the University of Kentucky in 1965, he initially worked for CEPO as a scout, prior to going to the Colts. Rutledge is married to the former Pearl Black of Kew Gardens, N.Y. and is the father of a married son, Richard, and a daughter Rebecca, 18.

Allan Webb – Offensive Backfield – 3rd Year – The former Giants' defensive back has had a diversified background as both player and coach. A Little-All-American at Arnold College in Connecticut in 1952 as both a running back and defensive back, Allan had a tryout with the Los Angeles Rams in 1955 after two years of service in the Navy, then played for the Montreal Alouettes that season in the CFL as a two-way back. He subsequently played for the Stamford Golden Bears in the minor leagues before getting a tryout with the Giants in 1961. He made the club as a safety and played through the 1965 season. As a safety in the championship years of 1962-63, he won starting roles and had three interceptions in each of those campaigns. In 1966, he was an assistant coach with the Scranton Miners of the ACFL, then moved on to the Westchester Bulls in that league. He was head coach of the Long Island Bulls in 1971, then became a Giant scout in 1972 and special assistant in 1973. Born on Jan. 22, 1933 in Washington, D.C., Allan starred in football, baseball and basketball at Ansonia H.S., Ansonia, Conn. before entering Arnold College. He concluded his playing career with the Patriots in 1970 and then went into the real estate development business in both the Miami and Denver areas through 1973 when he returned to pro football as the LB coach with Portland. Marty is married to the former Patricia Hoeltgen of Chicago, is the father of two youngsters, Kristen, 6; and Brian, 3, and has been living in Denver during the last few years.

HOWELL

Jim Lee Howell – Director of Personnel – Jim Lee Howell, a towering figure in the past and present of the New York Giants, lends a wealth of experience and football savvy to his position as Director of Player Personnel. It was 39 years ago that Jim Lee arrived on the New York scene, a long-legged rookie end out of the U. of Arkansas, and since then he has filled a variety of key roles for the Giants: player, assistant coach, head coach and now, of course, as a top-ranking administrator. Howell's record speaks boldly for itself. During his nine years as a player (1937-42, 1946-48), the Giants posted a mark of 55-37-9 and played in four world championship games (1938-39-41-46). After his playing days, the 6-6 Arkansan served as end coach under Coach Steve Owen from 1949-53 and, when Owen departed after the 1953 campaign, Jim Lee was named head coach. The winning pattern Howell had established as a player continued during his reign as coach. Over the next seven years, the Giants won 56 games, lost just 36 and tied four, and they made the world championship game three times, beating the Bears in 1956 and losing classic struggles to the Colts in 1958-59.

TRIMBLE

McVAY

Jim Trimble – Director of Pro Personnel – Few men in professional football are better qualified than Jim Trimble to handle the role of Director of Pro Personnel, an assignment he shouldered at the start of the 1969 season when the Giants reorganized their adminstrative staff. As Director of Pro Personnel, Trimble serves as a liason between coach Bill Arnsparger and club president Wellington Mara, helps coordinate trades, works closely with Jim Lee Howell and members of the scouting staff and generally handles the myriad details and personnel problems that result from the everwidening range of pro football activity. Whatever the problems, though, it is likely that Jim has encountered them somewhere along the line during his 36 years in football. His background in the game is not only broad, it is also very successful. He was head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles (1952-56), the Hamilton Tiger Cats (1956-62) and the Montreal Alouettes (1963-65) and rarely was he ever on the losing side. His NFL record with the Eagles was 27-20-2. In Canada, he compiled an overall record of 77-61-2 and was named Coach of the Year in 1961. Additionally, he served in the dual role of head coach and general manager.

John McVay – 1st Year – Research and Development – The newest member of Giants staff joined the club in March, 1976 after serving as the head coach of the Memphis team in the WFL for two seasons. The 45-year-old coach was born in Bellaire, Ohio and played his high school football at the famed Massillon High School in Ohio. He then moved on to play his college ball at Miami of Ohio under both Woody Hayes and Ara Parseghian and earned All-Midwest honors as a center. John was team MVP lineman for two years and team captain in 1952. Following graduation, McVay began his coaching career at Central Catholic H.S. in Canton, Ohio, compiling a 41-7-2 record there in nine seasons. He moved on to Michigan State as an assistant for three seasons under Duffy Daugherty, then was named head coach at Dayton University. In 1966, the Flyers were 8-2 under McVay, their first winning record in 10 seasons. He served for five years as head coach and was then named Director of Athletics at Dayton in 1972, a position he held until being named head coach at Memphis in 1974. That year, Memphis won 17 regular season games and led the WFL in virtually every offensive category. The McVays have three sons, all active in football–John Jr., who had a tryout as a DB with the Giants in 1975; Jim, who was a QB at Dayton, and Tim, presently a safety at Indiana University.

CUNNEFF

Joe Sulaitis – Assistant Director of Personnel – Joe Sulaitis brings to his role of Assistant Director of Personnel a broad football background that includes playing, scouting and coaching. As a player with the Giants from 1943-45 and again from 1947-53, Joe earned a reputation as one of the most versatile men ever to play the game. He was, at various times, a wingback, end, quarterback (blocking back in the A formation) and guard on offense, while on defense he played defensive end, linebacker and defensive back. At any position, he was known as a tough, aggressive 60-minute football player. After his first three-year stint with the Giants, Joe played one year with the Boston Yanks (1946). He returned to the Giants in 1947 and put in seven more productive seasons before retiring in 1953. Sulaitis' coaching experience included one year (1943) as head coach of North Arlington (N.J.) High School and two years (1947-48) as backfield coach at Wagner College under Jim Lee Howell, who later became head coach of the Giants and who is now Joe's immediate superior in the club scouting division. Sulaitis was in private business from 1953 until 1966, when he rejoined his old ball club as an area scout.

Ray Cunneff – Orthopedic Surgeon – The newest member of the club's staff is Dr. Ray Cunneff of Red Bank, N.J. who joined the Giants as team orthopedic surgeon prior to the 1974 season. A native of Philadelphia, Ray graduated Cum Laude from St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia and from Jefferson Medical College in the same city. After an internship and residency at Jefferson Hospital, Ray served in the Air Force Medical Corps as a Captain at Bolling Air Force Base in orthopedic surgery. After his discharge, he was a resident at New York Orthopedic Hospital. Dr. Cunneff is currently engaged in his own practice in Red Bank, N.J., and is also the Director of Orthopedic Surgery at Riverview Hospital in New Jersey as well as being an Associate Attending Orthopedic Surgeon at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center in New York. He is also President of the New Jersey Orthopedic Society and is a Consultant at both Northern Westchester Hospital and White Plains Hospital in Westchester County. He is often a guest lecturer at symposiums on sports injuries at various colleges. An avid golfer, Ray and his wife, Shirley, are the parents of five boys and reside in Red Bank, N.J.

BONO

Rudy Bono, M.D. – Team Physician – As they say, Dr. Rudy Bono had "a tough act to follow" when he joined the medical staff of the New York Giants back in 1967 as the successor to Dr. Francis J. Sweeney, who had died the previous year. Doc Sweeney had been with the ball club for over 35 years and was something of a walking legend in the NFL, and his shoes would be hard to fill. But in the ensuing eight years, Rudy Bono has left his own mark on the Giants and is now regarded as one of the top team physicians in the league. The 47-year-old resident of Englewood, N.J., forms one half of the Giants' medical team. He is responsible for the general health problems of players and coaches while his confederate, Dr. Ray Cunneff, concerns himself with the orthopedic problems. Dr. Bono, a bouncy little fellow, received a BS from Union College in 1950 and his MD from Albany Medical College in 1954. He did his surgical internship at St. Vincent's in New York City from 1954-55 and then served for three years as a Navy lieutenant (1955-57). In 1965, he became associate attending surgeon at St. Vincent's Hospital and, the same year, was appointed assistant professor of clinical surgery at the New York University-Bellvue Medical Center.

John Dziegiel – Physical Fitness Director – John Dziegiel, one of the best known and most widely respected trainers in the sports field, has a career that dates back over 40 years to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. John started in 1928 by assisting the regular West Point trainers with rubdowns; in 1930, he became a fulltime assistant trainer and stayed at The Point until 1944. From 1946 through 1967, Dziegiel was head trainer at Fordham University, dividing his time between Rose Hill and Yankee Stadium, where he was co-trainer, along with John Johnson, for the Football Giants, a post he acquired in 1956. An acknowledged authority on sports injuries and treatment, John helped found the National Association of Athletic Trainers and is also active in the Eastern Athletic Trainers' Association. He and his family live in Nanuet, N.Y. Dziegiel now devotes his full time and energies to a year-round physical training and conditioning program for the Giants. Players living in the New York metropolitan area work regularly with John in the off-season.

John Johnson – Trainer – John Johnson, a graduate of the Swedish Institute of Physical Therapy, has been a trainer for the Giants for the past 24 years and, during this period, also has served as head trainer and physical instructor at Manhattan College. After serving an internship period at Brooklyn Jewish and Long Island College Hospitals (1937-38), Johnson worked as a physical trainer for the Bedford YMCA and then, from 1942-46, was in charge of physical therapy and rehabilitation at a U.S. Air Force base hospital. His service hitch included duty as a physical therapy instructor, athletic trainer for post teams and as an air-sea rescue medic. From 1946-47, John was a civilian athletic trainer at the U.S. Naval Preflight School at Ottumwa, Ia. A member of the Eastern and National Athletic Trainers' Associations as well as the National Physical Therapy Association, Johnson also has served as a trainer for visiting teams at Madison Square Garden (1954-63). He lives in Cresskill, N.J., with his wife and two daughters.

Dave Patton – Trainer – Newest member of the Giants' trainer staff is 26-year-old Dave Patton who joined the staff two years ago after serving for two years as the assistant athletic trainer at West Point. Born in Indianapolis, Dave was a defensive back at North Central High School until an illness curtailed his gridiron activities. He then got into the training field while still in high school, working with the school's trainer who had previously worked at Cincinnati University. Dave continued his education and training internship at Muskingum College in Ohio, working with all of the teams at that college until his graduation. While at Muskingum, he was selected as the trainer for the All-Star Shrine Bowl game in Ohio. After graduation, Dave served in the Army and was assigned as an enlisted man to West Point where he continued his chosen field of work, and he continued for two more years as assistant trainer at West Point for the varsity football and hockey teams until joining the Giants on a fulltime basis. A bachelor, Dave still lives in Highland Falls, N.Y.

BUFFINGTON

IVY

Harry Buffington – Scout – During his 36 odd years in football, Harry Buffington has gained wide experience on virtually every level of the game, experience that he now brings to the Giants' scouting department. In his time, the Pryor, Okla., native has been player, coach, scout, recruiter and personnel expert. His professional playing experience includes one year with the Giants (1942) when he played running back, guard and linebacker; and three years with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the AAC (1946-48). He filled the same role at Texas Tech in 1963 and then coached the defense for the Edmonton Eskimos in Canada (1964-65). Since 1966, Harry has been an area scout with CEPO.

Frank (Pop) Ivy – Scout – With the start of the 1972 NFL season, Frank (Pop) Ivy began his second tour of duty as a scout for the Giants. A veteran of head coaching assignments in three major professional leagues (the NFL, AFL and Canada), Ivy first joined the New York organization as defensive line coach in 1965. He held that post through the 1966 season and then left to head up scouting operations in the southwest. Coach Alex Webster talked Pop back into coaching in 1971 and he returned to New York from his home in Norman, Okla., to tutor the offensive line. Now, for the second time in his Giant career, the veteran football man is once again the club's chief talent hunter in the southwest. Ivy has a broad background in pro football. He was head coach of the Edmonton Eskimos in Canada (1954-57), head coach of the Chicago Cardinals in the NFL (1958-61) and then head coach of the Houston Oilers of the AFL (1962-63). An All-American college player at the U. of Oklahoma, Pop saw NFL service as an end with the Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Cardinals.

KAVANAUGH

BROWN

Ken Kavanaugh – Scout – Ken Kavanaugh, one of the most famous names in National Football League history, joined the Giants' scouting staff in 1971 and brought with him a wealth of experience as both a professional player and coach. Actually, Kavanaugh moved into the Giants' scouting department from the coaching staff, where he had been offensive end coach from 1955-68 and offensive coach from 1969-70, a total of 16 years under three head coaches, Jim Lee Howell (his current scouting superior), Allie Sherman and Alex Webster. Prior to becoming a Giant aide, the Pro Hall of Fame end had spent one season (1951) as end coach for his old club, the Chicago Bears, and one season (1954) at Villanova College in his hometown of Philadelphia. As a player, Ken was one of the Bear greats. He starred at end in 1940-41, left for an Air Force tour of duty and returned to make All Pro again in 1946-47. At LSU, Kavanaugh was a four-year regular (1936-40), twice earning All American honors.

Rosey Brown – Scout – Roosevelt Brown's appointment to the Giants' scouting staff in 1971 signaled the beginning of yet another era in his outstanding career with the New York ball club. From 1953 through 1965, Rosey ranked as one of the all-time great offensive linemen in the National Football League, a big, fast, wide-ranging tackle, who earned All Pro honors six times, was selected to play in the Pro Bowl on eight occasions and, in 1956, was voted Lineman of the Year in the NFL. When a phlebitis condition forced him to retire in 1966, Brown was immediately named assistant line coach by the Giants, a post he held until 1969 when he became head line coach, replacing Jim Trimble. In 1971, Brown, along with another coaching aide, Ken Kavanaugh, left Alex Webster's staff to assume new responsibilities under Jim Lee Howell, his onetime coach, in the scouting department. Rosey, now 45, is a resident of Teaneck, N.J., but spends a good deal of his time on the road in search of fresh talent for the Giants.

A 6-3, 250-pounder, Jerry was the Vikings' No. 1 draft choice in 1966 after an All-Star career at Purdue. He played two years with the Vikings, then was traded to the Falcons in 1968 where he was a starting tackle for two years. An All-American for two years at Purdue, Jerry was born on July 10, 1944 in Gary into a family named Dzedzeji (since changed to Shay). GEORGE MARTIN — Defensive End — 2nd Year

Oregon — 6-4 245 23 — Fairfield, Calif.

PRO: For an 11th Round pick, Martin proved to be an outstanding addition in his rookie year. Big, rangy and quick, Martin appeared in all 14 games last year, and starred four times in place of injured Dave Gallagher. In every instance, Martin turned in commendable work. George also did big job on special teams play, showing hitting ability always. As for speed, he showed that too, catching 49ers Bruce Taylor from behind after 66-yard punt return to negate sure TD.

COLLEGE: Martin began his career as a tight end at Oregon, then switched to defensive line in his junior year. Had 83 solo tackles in his senior year. George was also a fine basketball player in college, earning letters in his freshman and sophomore seasons before concentrating strictly on football.

PERSONAL: George Dwight Martin was born on February 16, 1953 in Greenville, South Carolina, but played his high school athletics at Armijo H.S. in Fairfield, Cal. where he was not only an outstanding football player but an All-American basketball performer. George and his wife, Diane, have a daughter Teresa and reside in Fairfield, Cal. in the off-seasons.

JOHN MENDENHALL — Defensive Tackle — 5th Year

Grambling — 6-1 255 28 — Houston, Tex.

PRO: The Giants' No. 3 draft choice in 1972, Mendenhall has had an awesome career with the Giants, finally winning due recognition in 1974 when he was named to the UPI's All-NFC team, to the New York Daily News' All-NFL first team and to the Pro Football Writers' All-NFL second unit. Mendy missed one game with a knee injury, but in the other 13 was as good a defensive tackle as anyone, coming up with 11 quarterback sacks, fumble recoveries, blocked passes and general mayhem against opposing teams. Combines great strength with quickness and agility and usually requires double-teaming. One play against Dallas typified his overall abilities– he knocked down two blockers, got to Calvin Hill and dumped him for an 8-yard loss so hard that Calvin fumbled, with Roy Hilton picking up the fumble to go 71 yards for a TD. . . and Mendy getting up after his tackle to throw a block to help spring Hilton loose. Last year, Mendy was again off to a super start through a 4-2 pre-season slate, sacking QBs and even getting an interception vs. the Steelers. Then in the season opener, he injured an ankle and was hobbled for the rest of the year, despite his efforts to play on one good ankle. He finally went on the injured list for the final three games and missed five games overall and parts of five others. Fully recovered, he should be primed for another All-Pro season. A starter since his rookie year, John was named to the All-NFL Rookie team that season. In 1973, he was on his way to All-Pro honors when he went down with a knee injury halfway through the year and underwent surgery.

COLLEGE: Mendenhall was an AP Little All-American and NAIA choice at Grambling, won four letters, team defensive MVP honors and was a star in the Senior Bowl. Had a big day in the College All-Star game in 1972 also.

CRAIG MORTON — Quarterback — 12th Year

California — 6-4 210 33 — New York City

PRO: Morton came to the Giants from Dallas for a No. 1 draft choice just before the trading deadline in 1974 and moved right in as the No. 1 quarterback. In fact, with just three days work, he played the following Sunday against the Cowboys in relief of Jim DelGaizo, then started the remaining games. Morton's presence improved the offense considerably. The Giants scored but 68 points in the first seven games of the year, then increased production to 127 for the final seven with Morton doing the orchestration. By season's end, he had completed 122 of 237 passes for the Giants, for 1,510 yards and nine touchdowns and had enjoyed several outstanding afternoons. He had 21 completions for 259 yards against the Cardinals and was 21-for-32 against the Jets. In 1975, despite an offensive line which was hit with a series of injuries, and the lack of a really outstanding running attack, Craig led the club to five wins, and along the way had 186 completions for 2359 yards and 11 TDs, the last of which was his 100th career TD. Had great night in 17-14 win over the undefeated Bills with 15-of-21 for 220 yards. Good, solid leader, he should be primed for top year with full season behind him and addition of some muscle in rush attack via signing of Larry Csonka. Morton originally was a No. 1 draft choice of Dallas in 1965 and spent 10 years with the Cowboys, several of those seasons as the No. 1 QB, including taking the club to a Super Bowl. He had a banner year in 1972 with a club record 185 completions for 2,396 yards and 15 TDs.

COLLEGE: Morton was an All-American quarterback at California, starring for three seasons and setting records in the process. A teammate in the backfield was Mike Epstein, later a major league baseball player. Morton was also a top baseball player at Cal, turning down a baseball bonus offer to join the Cowboys.

After five years as the starting right guard, Van Horn moved to right tackle in 1974 and had another solid campaign. He continued as starting RT in 1975, again going all 14 games and continued to be a leader on the field. Was particularly effective in the big win over Buffalo, not only in his pass blocking and on the run, but by the way he fired up the club in the final winning drive. Reggie also serves as offensive co-captain of the club and is the team's player representative.

COLLEGE: Van Horn was one of Woody Hayes' top players in the 1960's, earning three letters with the Buckeyes as an offensive lineman and winning All-Big 10 honors twice as well as being named to the AP, UPI and Coaches' All-American teams in 1965.

PERSONAL: Douglas Van Horn, a redhead, was born on June 25, 1944 in Sedalia, Ohio and majored in marketing at Ohio State. He's married to the former Connie Wilson and is the father of a 6-year-old daughter, Heather. Doug works as a stockbroker in the off-season with Stone-Webster in Columbus.

BRAD VAN PELT — Linebacker — 4th Year

Michigan State — 6-5 — 235 — 25 — Owosso, Mich.

PRO: The No. 2 draft choice of the Giants in 1973 after an All-American career at Michigan State, Brad was plagued by nagging injuries all through his rookie year and consequently appeared in only five games. Initially, he reported to training camp with a foot injury and after overcoming that problem suffered a series of deep groin pulls which inhibited his progress. In 1974, Brad was strictly a linebacker after those earlier trials at DB, LB and TE and won a starting job at the weakside. He did a fine job, coming up with two interceptions for 22 yards, and also recovered two fumbles. He missed several games with injury, but his progress was solid. Then last year, working at the strongside, he hit his peak. Playing all 14 games, he rated solidly not only against the run but in his range on pass coverage. Upped his interceptions total to three, recovered a fumble and blocked two field goal attempts. Potential is unlimited. Can also kick off and is top special teams player too.

COLLEGE: Unanimous All-American in college where he was a monster man defensive back, Brad also won the Maxwell Trophy his senior year. Had 14 career interceptions, returned two for TDs, kicked off, had 84 tackles his senior year. Also lettered in basketball and baseball and had big bonus offer from St. Louis Cardinals in baseball as pitcher.

PERSONAL: Brad Alan Van Pelt was born on April 5, 1951 in Owosso, Mich., played all sports at Owosso H.S. before heading to Michigan State. Raises St. Bernard puppies and is fine cribbage player. Still lives in hometown during the off-seasons.

LARRY WATKINS — Running Back — 8th Year

Alcorn A & M — 6-2 — 230 — 29 — Camden, N.J.

PRO: Giants obtained Watkins for a draft choice from the Buffalo Bills during the 1975 off-season. He became a valuable backup running back all through last season, finishing as the club's top per-average rusher with a 4.5 mark on 303 yards in 68 carries. His big days were against Cardinals and Chargers, with 85 rushing against the former (all in one half) and 71 vs. the latter. Originally signed as a free agent by Detroit in 1969, Larry played one season there, and was traded to Philadelphia in 1970. After three seasons as a reserve, he was traded to Buffalo and became a starter with O.J. Simpson in 1973, carrying 98 times for 414 yards, a 4.2 average and two touchdowns. Had 105 yards rushing in 18 carries in season opener against New England, then proved fine blocker that year as O.J. had his 2,000-yard season. Career totals show 1,241 yards rushing for a 3.7 average and 8 TDs, with 41 pass receptions.

COLLEGE: Watkins was a three-year letterman at Alcorn A & M and was named co-captain in his senior year. Played in the Orange Bowl Classic that year as well.

PERSONAL: Lawrence Watkins was born on October 5, 1946 in Bessemer, Ala., and played his high school sports at J.S. Abrams High in Bessemer. Now lives in Camden, N.J. with wife, LaSandra, and one youngster and has taught in Camden school system during the off-seasons.

MIKE WELLS — Quarterback — 3rd Year

Illinois — 6-5 — 225 — 24 — Normal, Illinois

PRO: Mike came to the Giants from the Minnesota Vikings as a free agent just prior to the start of the regular season after spending two seasons there—one on the taxi squad and the next on injured reserve after he was kayoed by a knee injury which required surgery. Just prior to that injury, Mike had started at QB against Miami in a pre-season game and had completed 7-of-8 passes for 56 yards and had rushed 5 times for 37 yards.

COLLEGE: Wells was a standout quarterback and runner at Illinois, winning three letters there and gaining All-Big 10 honors in 1972. Set school records for passing yardage and total offense that season. Majored in geography at Illinois and made All-Academic team.

PERSONAL: Mike Wells was born on June 18, 1951 in Normal, Illinois, where he was a fine all-around athlete. He still resides in his hometown and is a bachelor.

MARSH WHITE — Running Back — 2nd Year

Arkansas 6-2 220 23 Dallas, Tex.

PRO: White was a 12th Round pick last year, going that late primarily because of a collegiate career marred by a series of nagging injuries. As a rookie, Marsh improved steadily throughout the season, getting into all 14 games and proving to be a fine hitter and performer on all of the special team units. He also managed to see extensive duty in the backfield as a reserve and enjoyed a solid afternoon in the 26-23 win over San Francisco when he carried 12 times for 69 yards and scored a TD. All told, White had 90 yards on 17 carries for a team-leading 5.3 average, and also caught three passes for 15 yards. He's got good speed and could well be a contender for a starting berth in '76.

COLLEGE: Hampered by injuries in each of his three seasons at Arkansas, Marsh nonetheless had some fine days as a collegian, including 64 yards in 8 carries against USC and 78 in 11 trips against Texas Tech. He was an All-SWC choice as a soph when he rushed 80 times for 340 yards after a fine freshman season when he scored 10 TDs.

PERSONAL: Marsh R. White was born on April 1, 1953 in Bonham, Tex., and starred at Bonham H.S. in his hometown. White is a bachelor, plays the piano and is a cousin of Cincinnati Redleg Joe Morgan.

BILL WINDAUER — Defensive Tackle — 4th Year

Iowa 6-3 245 26 Iowa City, Iowa

PRO: An 8th Round draft choice of the Baltimore Colts in 1973, Bill came to the Giants last year after being released by the Colts and got into the last four games of the season. With the Colts, Windauer was a starting defensive tackle for five games in 1974, then suffered broken thumb and was sidelined for several games thereafter. He had one QB sack while a starter.

COLLEGE: Three-year performer at Iowa as a defensive lineman, the first season as the middle guard and last two as defensive tackle. Sat out one season with ankle injury, but came back strongly in final year to win conference mentions and was named to play in Blue-Gray game.

PERSONAL: William Joseph Windauer was born on November 22, 1949 in Chicago and was a highly versatile athlete at Mendel Catholic H.S. in the Windy City, starring in football and as a heavyweight wrestling champion and member of a state championship two-mile relay team. Resides in Iowa City with wife Madeline during off-season.

ELMO WRIGHT — Wide Receiver — 6th Year

Houston — 6-0 — 190 — 27 — Houston, Tex.

PRO: The No. 1 draft pick of the Kansas City Chiefs in 1971 after a stellar career at Houston where he was a unanimous All-American and held NCAA career records for TD catches (34) and average-per-catch (21.9). Signed by the Giants as a free agent during this past off-season after having played out his option with Kansas City. Subsequent stops in 1975 were at New England and Houston. Elmo had big rookie year in 1971, winning Chiefs' MVP Rookie honors after grabbing 26 passes for 528 yards, a 20.2 average and three TDs. Wright had 66 catches for 1,070 yards in four seasons with KC, despite being slowed by a succession of injuries in his final three years. Also rushed 10 times for 69 yards and one TD.

COLLEGE: Called by many observers "the best wide receiver in the U.S." during his senior year at Houston, Wright was a first-team All-American on five teams that year—AP, Sporting News, FWAA, Football News and NEA—and followed that by being a first round draft pick.

PERSONAL: Elmo Wright was born on July 3, 1949 in Brazoria, Texas and achieved stardom in several sports at Sweeney H.S. in his hometown before entering Houston University. An accomplished saxophone player, Elmo resides in Houston during the off-season where he works in real estate.

WILLIE YOUNG — Tackle — 11th Year

Grambling — 6-0 — 255 — 33 — Grambling, La.

PRO: Signed as a free agent in 1966 by the Giants, Willie, who is called "Sugar Bear" by his teammates, has been the starting left tackle for the Giants for the past eight seasons. Young originally was a defensive tackle in his rookie year with the Giants, then made the move to offense the following year as a reserve and won a starting job in 1968. Not tall for an offensive tackle, Young makes up for that with quickness and great strength and 100% desire. Has also racked up some stats as a tackle, including two kickoff returns for six yards. . . . .three rushing attempts on laterals for two yards. . .and has caught two passes, one for eight yards and one for minus-five!!

COLLEGE: Young earned three letters at Grambling as an offensive guard, winning MVP honors in his senior year and All-American NAIA mention as well. Also played in the Pecan Bowl and when he wasn't playing football, sang as a bass in the Grambling choir.

PERSONAL: Willie Lull Young was born on June 27, 1943 in Ruston, La., into a family of eight children. His father, Rev. James Young, is a minister in Ruston. Willie is married to the former Barbara Coleman and has two sons, Michael and Rodney. Willie spends the off-seasons as a Guidance counselor at Grambling.

1976 DRAFT CHOICES

TROY ARCHER — Defensive End — Round 1

Colorado University — 6-4 — 245

A swift and versatile defensive lineman who earned considerable honors in his two varsity years at Colorado University after his transfer from Rio Hondo Junior College. In his two years at Colorado, Archer had 154 unassisted tackles and was named team Most Valuable Lineman in both 1974 and 1975. In his senior season, Troy had 83 solo tackles, including 12 quarterback sacks and was named the Big 8 Conference's Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts in a victory over Missouri when he had 31 tackles!! Troy was named to the All-Big 8 team by both UPI and AP and was also voted to the Time Magazine All-American team. He was also outstanding in the Bluebonnet Bowl this past season against Texas after Colorado went to that Bowl game after a fine 9-2 season. Archer also caught the eyes of pro scouts, and Giant coach Bill Arnsparger, for his efforts in this past year's Senior Bowl. Troy was born on January 16, 1955 and played his high school football at California High School in Whittier, Calif. The Colorado coaching staff rates him as a young man with tremendous potential and rate his toughness and competitive instincts as exemplary. Troy is single, still resides in Whittier and lists handball as his favorite hobby.

GORDON BELL — Running Back — Round 4

Michigan — 5-9 — 180

Using the choice obtained from San Francisco in the 4th round of the draft, the Giants selected Michigan's All-American running back Gordon Bell, a perpetual motion runner who averaged 122 yards rushing per game in 1975 en route to a 1,335-yard season. That sort of production won Bell Associated Press All-American honors as well as first team All-Big 10 by both AP and UPI and an 8th place finish in the Heisman Trophy balloting. Gordon's 1,335 rushing yards also ranked as the 8th best total in the country in 1975. While his senior year was an exceptional one, he enjoyed fine seasons as well as both a sophomore and junior at Michigan. As a swingman tailback in 1973, he averaged 5.2 per carry on 475 yards in 88 attempts, then won All-Big 10 second team accolades in 1974 when he carried 174 times for 1,072 yards and a sparkling 6.0 average per trip. Bell's three year rushing total comes up 2,882 yards and he scored 28 touchdowns over that span. In addition to his post-season bowl game appearances, Gordon was also a member of the group that participated in the Japan Bowl. Bell was born on December 25, 1953 in Troy, Ohio, is single and still resides in his hometown. A Business Administration major at Michigan, Gordon lists fishing and reading as his principal hobbies. He should prove to have special value to the Giants since he is also a highly capable kickoff and punt return specialist.

HARRY CARSON Linebacker Round 4

South Carolina State 6-2 228

A four-year player at South Carolina State who never missed a game, Carson is called "one of the greatest players I've ever coached" by South Carolina State head man Willie Jeffries. . . .and Jeffries is quick to add that he has also coached ElvinBethea of Houston and Barney Chavous of Denver. Carson was a defensive lineman in college those years, led the team in tackles as a soph with 92, and in his junior and senior years was the MVP of the Mid-East Conference, and won Little All-American honors by the AP and 1st team Black All-American by the Mutual Black Network. This past season, Harry was near invincible—he had 114 solo tackles, 41 assists and 30 quarterback sacks!! Born on November 26, 1953 in Florence, S.C., Carson starred at McClenghan High School there before his move on to South Carolina State. Because of his great speed for a big man (4.8 in the 40), the Giants have projected Carson as a linebacker and will try him both in the middle and on the outside when he gets to training camp. Carson also got top ratings for his leadership abilities at SCS and can be of additional value as a special teams player.

MELVIN WILSON Defensive Back Round 5

Cal. State, Northridge 6-1 190

Rated highly for his potential by the Giants' West Coast scouts, 23-year-old Mel Wilson has the distinction of having won All-California Collegiate Athletic Association honors as both a linebacker and as a defensive safety. Wilson earned four varsity letters in football and in addition to LB and FS played defensive end and running back early in his career. A product of San Fernando High School where he was a teammate of Anthony Davis, Mel was also an outstanding basketball player and his agility and jumping ability contributed greatly to his play at free safety. Wilson had 9 interceptions in his final two seasons, returning one 85 yards for a touchdown. Team captain, extremely active as a leader on campus, Mel has 4.6 speed in the 40 and also received fine gradings from the pro scouts for his hitting ability. Giants plan to look at Wilson as both a corner and strong safety possibility. Mel was born on December 10, 1952 in Pacoima, California, is married and the father of an infant son. He still resides in his hometown.

DAN LLOYD — Linebacker — Round 6

Washington 6-2 225

With this draft choice obtained from New England, Giants tapped Washington's All-PAC 8 linebacker Dan Lloyd, a rugged 225-pounder with a background as a California State wrestling champion. Lloyd was a starter for each of his three seasons with the Huskies and earned his initial recognition in 1974 as a junior when he was third in team defensive stats for tackles and was picked on the All-PAC 8 third team. In his senior season last year, Lloyd's contributions escalated, despite the fact that a series of nagging injuries sidelined him for three games and hampered him in others. Even though he missed those three full games, the wide-ranging linebacker finished the year with 129 tackles—again the third best total on the club, and this time made the All-PAC 8 first team at season's end. He was additionally voted the PAC 8's Lineman of the Week for his performance against the University of California. He had one interception for a 27-yard return in that game against the Bears. Lloyd was also selected to play in the Hula Bowl, but bowed out because of the injuries which happened in the final games. Born in Hebner, Utah on November 9, 1953, Dan starred at Hames Lick High School in San Jose, Calif., making the high school All-American teams in both football and wrestling. Lloyd is single and majored in Art Education at Washington.

JOHN JORDAN — Defensive Tackle — Round 8

Indiana 6-3½ 265

Here's a prospect from Indiana University via semi-pro football, the Memphis Southmen of the WFL, and the recommendation of Giants' assistant coach Jay Fry. Jordan played at Indiana University for two years, then dropped out of school in 1974 and played that year with the semi-pro Indianapolis team. From that league, Jordan's next stop was with Memphis where he began the year as a swingman and part-time starter at defensive tackle. His rapid improvement there resulted in his winning a starting spot for the final six games of the season, and thus the lasting impression made on Coach Fry who believes that Jordan has unlimited potential. Jordan was born in Indianapolis, is 23 years old and is married. He still makes Indianapolis his home.

JOHN THOMAS — Running Back — Round 10

Valley City State (N.D.) 6-3 200

Product of schoolboy athletics in Philadelphia, Pa., Thomas has turned out to be a highly versatile all-around athlete at Valley City State College in North Dakota. In three varsity seasons there, the 6-3, 200-pounder has played at defensive back, wide receiver and running back, as well as a punt and kickoff return specialist. . . .and he did all of those things extremely well. He's just as versatile in track where he runs the 100, 220, is on the 440-yard relay team and also runs the 120-yard hurdles. He's been timed at 4.7 for the 40, 9.7 for the 100 and with this type of speed and size could prove to be a candidate for return work with the Giants. Pro scouts who saw Thomas in action this past season rated him as easily the best running back in his conference, blessed with great natural abilities in the areas of quickness, instincts and overall capabilities. John was born on May 5, 1953 in Philadelphia and was a three-sport standout at Simon Gratz High School. He's single and still lives in Philadelphia.

CRAIG BRANTLEY — Wide Receiver — Round 11

Clemson 6-1 180

The quarterbacks at Clemson didn't throw a heck of a lot of passes to Craig Brantley over the past three seasons, but when they did—it was Voom, Zoom, Six Points. A product of Charlotte, N.C., Craig had but 3 receptions as a sophomore for a total of 128 yards—just 2 catches in his junior year that went for 97 and 55-yard TDs, and then had a good senior year with 22 for 475 yards, including TD bursts of 80, 78 and 55 yards. Overall, the three-year total showed 27 catches for 755 yards and a 27.9 average-per-catch number. . . .and his 6 career touchdown catches averaged 69.6 yards per score. Clemson people point out that the forward pass wasn't overworked there, but when the Tigers needed six points from anyplace on the field, Brantley did his number. Clocked consistently in 4.4 and 4.5 for the 40, Craig is single and still lives in Charlotte where he was born on August 6, 1954.

JERRY GOLSTEYN — Quarterback — Round 12

Northern Illinois 6-4 208

Giants' scout Rosey Brown liked what he saw of Golsteyn on several occasions this past season, citing Jerry's size, set up, strong arm and potential. A rangy 6-4, Jerry was a three-season starter at Northern Illinois and compares favorably with his school's George Bork, a Little All-American several campaigns ago. Though Northern Illinois did not make great use of the pro sets on offense, Golsteyn nonetheless has fine gradings on his quickness in setting up and his instant release. Equally as adept at going deep with his strong arm or pin-pointing shorter passes. Named offensive captain in both 1974 and 1975 seasons, he had any number of steller afternoons, including an 11-of-16 for 143 yards against Marshall College. Jerry has 4.8 speed in the 40 and made good use of that speed as a running QB in a run-oriented offense. Born on August 6, 1954 in West Allis, Wisconsin, he was an All-State QB at Central High School in his hometown, setting school career passing records en route. Also lettered in basketball and set school one-season rebound record. Single, Jerry still lives in West Allis.

Western Kentucky — 5-9 — 180

Tough little defensive back whose 4.55 speed in 40 stamps him as a candidate for kickoff and punt return employment with the Giants. Assistant coach Ed Rutledge is familiar with some of Caswell's feats which included 3 touchdowns on punt returns in 1975, all more than 70 yards in distance, including a 75-yard TD return against New Hampshire in the Rice Bowl. Rich has also found the end zone with pass interceptions, scoring twice with pilfered throws, including a 56-yarder against Eastern Kentucky in his junior year which resulted in a 36-34 win for his club. Rick had 14 career interceptions, leading Western Kentucky in that department in both 1974 and 1975. A native of Elizabethtown, Kentucky, Rick was an all-around athlete at Elizabethtown High School, lists golf as his favorite hobby and wants to be a football coach someday.

JERRY MULLANE — Linebacker — Round 14

Lehigh — 6-4 — 230

Here's a rangy, fine all-around athlete who was the defensive captain at Lehigh in his senior season and proved to be a spirited leader, an excellent special teams player and a solid linebacker prospect. Blessed with fine size, agility and good quickness for that size (4.9 in the 40), Mullane earned varsity letters for three seasons with the Engineers and was named team defensive MVP for the past two years as well. Jerry is the type of player that all clubs like to get a good look at—particularly because of his size, speed and potential. Mullane was also an outstanding lacrosse player at Lehigh, earning letters in that sport also. Born in New City, N.Y. on July 11, 1954, Jerry played his high school sports at Clarkstown High School in nearby Rockland County.

EDDIE MORGAN — Defensive Tackle — Round 15

Arkansas State — 6-3 — 240

Consistency of performance is the best way to describe Arkansas State's Eddie Morgan, a tough, strong young man who led ASU in tackles, quarterback sacks and fumble recoveries in each of his three seasons at that school. A dedicated weightlifter who built himself up from 180 pounds in his senior year in high school to the 240-range in college, Eddie was rated as the strongest man on the Arkansas State squad. Pro scouts feel that Morgan has the size and strength to play in the NFL, but that he must work some on improving his quickness off the ball. Nonetheless, he's a hitter and a hustler and if determination means anything, then Morgan could well have some fine potential when he reports to training camp in the summer. Eddie was born on January 3, 1953 in West Memphis, Arkansas, played his high school football there, and still lives in his hometown.

DAVE LAWSON — Kicker — Round 16

Air Force — 6-1 — 220

Powerful All-American place-kicker—the most prolific field goal kicker in NCAA history—who lasted until the 16th round because of uncertainty as to his immediate availability due to Air Force requirements. Nonetheless, the Giants feel he is a valuable addition, no matter what those requirements might be. All-American in both 1974 and 1975, Lawson's kicking feats are legendary at Air Force. He booted 50 field goals at Air Force, an alltime NCAA career record, and his 19 FGs in 1974 is also a one-season NCAA mark. His career point toal is also an alltime NCAA record. Kicked a 62-yard FG against Iowa State, a 60-yard FG against Colorado and even booted a 69-yard FG in a practice scrimmage!! His kickoffs sailed into and beyond end zones. Outstanding all-around athlete who was also a starting defensive player for three seasons at Air Force as both a middle guard and linebacker. Also lettered in baseball and in track as a javelin thrower and was the heavyweight intramural boxing champion via a knockout. Dave was born on April 26, 1954 in Shawnee Mission, Kansas, is single and still resides in his hometown. His dad, Bob, was a college athlete also, winning football and track letters at Ottawa University in Kansas.

STEVE CURNUTTE — Defensive Back — Round 17

Vanderbilt — 6-1 — 180

Being picked on the 17th round is not all that unlucky. Both of the Giants' last-round picks the past two years (Steve Crosby in 1974 and Rondy Colbert in 1975) made the 43-man roster. Steve has just as good a chance. Twice All-Southeast Conference as a DB, Curnutte earned a reputation as a solid hitter with fine potential. Also a letterman in track with times of 4.6 in the 40 and 9.8 in the 100, Steve did double duty as a punt and kickoff return man and could get a try with the Giants in that area as well. Curnutte was born on November 4, 1953 in Lexington, Kentucky and played his high school sports at Ashland H.S. in Ashland, Ky. A National Honor Society member, he's also a fine tennis player. Steve is married and still lives in Ashland.

THE 1975 SEASON IN REVIEW

September 21 GIANTS 23, Philadelphia 14 (65,595) At Philadelphia

New Yorkers began season in fine style, overcoming an early 7-0 Eagle lead for the eventual 23-14 triumph. Two short plunges by Ron Johnson got the Giants on the board after the Eagle early score and George Hunt's 41-yard FG made it 16-7 in the third period. Philly came back on a Roman Gabriel TD toss to Harold Carmichael, but Craig Morton iced the Eagles by hitting Ray Rhodes on a 50-yard TD bomb in the closing minute. Morton was 14-for-28 for 240 yards, with Walker Gillette catching 6 for 88 and Bob Tucker 5 for 81. Giants sacked Mike Boryla three times and intercepted him twice to chase him in fourth period in favor of Gabriel. Johnson's 49 yards rushing on 20 carries was the leading figure in that department.

September 28 GIANTS 13, Washington 49 (54,953) At Washington

Big, bad 'Skins went on a sack attack against a depleted Giant offensive line, registering 8 dumps on Morton and Carl Summerell for a total of 68 yards. Lack of running attack allowed Redskins to tee off at will on pass rush. Giants lost three fumbles which didn't help much either. On sack of Morton resulted in end zone fumble, recovered by 'Skins for one of their TDs, and ex-Giant Larry Jones returned a punt 52 yards for another score. Giants drew first blood in opening period on 60-yard drive with Johnson scoring from the 1, but after that the 'Skins rolled to 28-7 halftime lead on assorted sorties amidst the sacking. Morton hit rookie Jim Obradovich for a 2-yard TD connection in the third session, but Allen's Gang rolled it up in final period with 21 more points. Morton pitched 13-for-21 for 105 yards, despite the pasting, while Johnson's 36 yards in 15 carries was the best in that department. October 5 GIANTS 14, St. Louis 26 (45,907) At St. Louis

Another bad first half dealt the Giants a second straight setback as fumbles led to a pair of Cardinal scores and Birds' Terry Metcalf and Jim Otis ran roughshod, each gaining more than 100 yards on the day. Second half proved to be a different story as New Yorkers came back to dominate that half with reserve Larry Watkins putting some muscle in running games. Watkins rushed for 85 yards in 15 carries (all in second half) and scored twice, but rally fell short. A short punt (28 yards) by Steve Crosby and Walker Gillette's fumble on own 24 led to first two St. Lou scores as Cardinals took 23-0 lead at halftime. Then Watkins took over with some sinewy running, scoring a bursts of 10 and 2 yards, but too late to overcome big lead. Morton had 17-for-24 for 168 yards in passing department and Ray Rhodes had 6 catches for 83 yards. Metcalf had 109 yards, Otis 101 for Cardinals.

October 12 GIANTS 7, Dallas 13 (60,372) At Shea Stadium

After absence of two years from New York, Giants returned to city at Shea Stadium in home opener, and had the Cowboys reeling throughout before losing a late game lead and bowing in final period 13-7. Giants' defense was outstanding in loss, shackling Roger Staubach to 8 completions in 22 attempts and sacking him 3 times for 21 yards. Again, fumbles hurt New York cause. Morton fumbled on first play of game, with Dallas turning that into a 24-yard FG by Toni Fritsch. New York threatened twice in first half, but interceptions killed both drives. In third period, the Giants went ahead 7-3, set up by a 34-yard Danny Buggs' punt return, with Doug Kotar going 5 yards for the TD. Another Morton fumble at his own 32 resulted in a second Fritsch FG from 22 yards to close to 7-6, but Giants still looked solid as defense continued doing job. Then, Morton had Kotar wide open for sure TD, but Cowboy's Mark Washington made leaping interception and returned to NY 17, from where Staubach hit Jean Fugett from 4 for clinching score. Watkins was leading NY rusher with 41 yards on 11 carries. Morton was but 8-for-23 for 99 yards.

Dallas – Fugett, 4 pass from Staubach (Fritsch kick)

October 20 GIANTS 17, Buffalo 14 (80,020) At Buffalo

In the year's highest-rated Monday Night game, the Giants scored a stunning upset over the previously undefeated Bills, and in the process blunted an oafish Buffalo columnists' prediction of a 63-7 Bill victory while simultaneously muting Cosell's gums in the TV booth. O.J. Simpson managed 128 yards rushing, but it came hard on 34 carries, and the Giant defense shut him down on key third-down short yardage situations several times in the second half. Buffalo led 14-0 midway through the second period on O.J.'s 1-yard sweep and a 13-yard Joe Ferguson TD pitch to J.D. Hill, but instead of rolling over and reposing, the Giants dominated the game from there on. Morton capped a 91-yard drive in the second period with a 20-yard TD strike to Ray Rhodes, then led a 90-yard march in the final period, capped by Ron Johnson's 13-yard TD run around left end to knot the game. Buffalo had two chances to go ahead, but John Leypoldt missed one field goal and Spider Lockhart blocked a second to set a final Giant drive in motion with 1:02 to play. The key play was a 22-yard Morton to Rhodes pass which positioned George Hunt's winning 37-yard field goal with 9 seconds left to play. Craig was 15-for-21 for 220 yards, Johnson had 77 yards rushing and Rhodes had 5 catches for 83 yards in the highly satisfying win.

October 25 GIANTS 13, St. Louis 20 (60,277) At Shea Stadium

Giants blew a great opportunity to make it two straight upset wins, fumbling away one TD on the Cardinal 4-yard line by Ron Johnson, missing a 19-yard FG and having two passes intercepted—all in the first half. St. Louis capitalized by leading 10-0 at the break. A St. Lou FG made it 13-0 in the final session before the Giants rallied to drive 83 yards for one score, Morton passing 12 to Ray Rhodes for the TD. Jim Hart, faced with a 3rd and 17, then hit Giant nemesis Mel Gray for a 38-yard TD, but the Giants stormed back again with Morton connecting with Walker Gillette for a 6-yard TD to close it to 20-13. Jim Stienke then blocked a Cardinal punt to give the Giants a final shot at the St. Lou 21, but Norm Thompson intercepted Morton in the closing seconds to blunt the drive. Craig had 19 completions for 231 yards in the game, but was intercepted three times and sacked four times. Joe Dawkins had 71 yards rushing and Gillette caught 6 passes for 100 yards against his former team. After five games without being sacked, the Cards' Jim Hart was dumped twice by the Giants and the Cardinal rushing attack was limited to 125 yards on 40 carries, but Hart found Gray 7 times for 187 yards and two TDs to get the triumph.

The New Yorkers finally managed an offensive explosion, rolling up 22 first downs and 348 yards on the attack to cruise to a 35-24 triumph. Craig Morton had another fine afternoon, connecting on 18 of 26 passes for 191 yards and two TDs and Larry Watkins had another good day coming off the bench with 71 yards rushing. The Giants drove 67 yards for the first TD against a tough Charger defense, with Joe Dawkins going 4 yards for the score, then utilized a 64-yard kickoff return by Doug Kotar to set up Dawkins' 13-yard run for a second score. After San Diego tied the score again, Morton hit Ray Rhodes for a 24-yard TD, and then Craig hooked up with Bob Tucker for a picture-book screen pass of 47 yards for a 28-21 lead in the third period, as John Hicks upended a Charger en route with one of the year's most devastating blocks. San Diego retaliated with a FG, but the Giants put it out of reach with a 64-yard march midway in the final period with Ron Johnson scoring from a yard out. Tucker had 5 catches for 69 yards and the TD and Walker Gillette had 5 for 38 yards. The victory was the third of the season, surpassing the previous year's total of two wins.

November 9 GIANTS 13, Washington 21 (60,340) At Shea Stadium

This one was the toughest loss of the season to take. With a chance to get to the .500 mark against the less-than-loved Redskins of George Allen, the Giants were again frustrated by a breakdown in pass coverage, then failed to cash in six points twice inside the Washington 10-yard line. Notwithstanding these problems, the Giants were leading 13-7 in the fourth period, only to be overtaken by a final minutes rally. At the start, the Giants had the Redskins pinned to their own 4-yard line when a mixup in the secondary allowed Frank Grant to break free for a 96-yard TD on a short pass from Billy Kilmer. Then with first and goal on the Redskin 1-yard line, the Giants twice were stopped, then penalized and had to settle for a 22-yard George Hunt FG. In the second period, Morton threw a 36-yard TD pass to Johnson for a 10-7 halftime lead. Jack Gregory's crushing tackle on Kilmer put Billy out of the game with an injury and in the third period, New York had another first down inside the Redskin 10, but Ron Johnson dropped a pass in the end zone on third down and the club had to settle for another Hunt FG and that 13-7 lead. With Randy Johnson at the helm in place of Kilmer, the 'Skins rallied in the final period with Larry Brown and Bob Brunet scoring short range TD plunges for the crushers. Morton was 14-for-30 for 182 yards, Johnson had 41 yards rushing on 15 attempts and Walker Gillette had 6 catches for 81 yards.

November 16 GIANTS 10, Philadelphia 13 (60,196) At Shea Stadium

Another bummer. . .from the Giants standpoint. Three lost fumbles, an interception and a mere 210 yards of offense all contributed to this 13-10 setback as the Eagles won it on Horst Muhlmann's 30-yard FG with 8 seconds left to play in the game. New York again came up with the shorts inside the other team's 10-yard line, this time in the first period. With first and goal from the 9, the Giants fizzled when Morton's apparent 7-yard TD pass to Bob Tucker was nullified by an interference penalty and NY had to settle for a 34-yard Hunt FG. Philadelphia retaliated with a second period drive capped by Roman Gabriel's 15-yard throw to Charlie Smith. A Ron Johnson fumble at his own 24 set up the Eagles again in the third period with Muhlmann's 22-yard FG making it 10-3. The Giants tied it in the fourth period when Bob Schmit recovered an Eagle bobble and five plays later Doug Kotar sliced in from three yards out, but the Eagles came back to win it in the final seconds on Muhlmann's clutch kick. Johnson had 50 yards rushing in 14 carries for the Giants, Morton was 9-for-23 for 92 yards passing and Gillette had 2 catches for 31 yards. Tom Sullivan rushed 91 yards for the winners.

Phila. – Muhlmann, 30 FG

November 23 GIANTS 14, Green Bay 40 (52,722) At Milwaukee

Four lost fumbles—two on the Green Bay goal line—and a phalanx of other mistakes and breakdowns summed up this sad setback to the Packers in Milwaukee. On Green Bay's fourth play of the game, John Hadl found Willard Harrell all by himself and hit him for a 36-yard TD. It was soon 14-0 when Hadl led another long drive and let Eric Torkleson go over from 2 yards out. The Giants came right back with an 85-yard march, but Ron Johnson fumbled the ball away as he went into the end zone for an apparent TD and the Packers recovered. Subsequently, a fake punt was botched by New York and the Packers jumped on that miscue to get a FG, and two minutes later a Rondy Colbert fumble was grabbed by the Packers and followed in one play by an option pass TD from Harrell to Steve Odom and a 24-0 halftime lead. The Giants bounced back to score twice in the third session on a 12-yard Morton to Gillette pass and a 10-yard sweep by Doug Kotar, but another 80-yard drive fizzled when Larry Watkins lost the ball at the Packer goal line!! The Packers added two fourth period touchdowns and a safety to close out the rout. Morton passed for 243 yards in the setback, but Hadl had 275 and the Packers also rushed for 210 more.

November 30 GIANTS 3, Dallas 14 (57,703) At Dallas

All of the scoring in this one took place in the first period as the Cowboys used a pair of lightning-like long distance strikes and then were blunted the rest of the way by a dogged Giant defense. With third down and 10 early in the first period, Roger Staubach found Jean Fugett for a 54-yard TD heave and a 7-0 lead as Fugett broke a tackle by Charlie Ford to go in standing up. The Giants came right back on a long drive of their own, but on third down deep in Dallas territory, Ron Johnson dropped a Morton pass at the Cowboy 6 and NY settled for a George Hunt FG. Back came Dallas late in the period, and this time Staubach found Golden Richards for a 62-yard bomb to the NY 4, and Doug Dennison went in from a yard out on third down for the 14-3 lead. In the third period, the Giants drove to the Dallas 7-yard line, but Morton's pass intended for Gillette was intercepted by Too Tall Jones to kill the threat. Thereafter, defense took over for both teams, with no further threats. Morton again was bedeviled by his former mates, throwing only 8-for-24 for 102 yards, getting sacked four times and intercepted thrice. Doug Kotar had 62 yards rushing for the losers, while Preston Pearson had 65 rushing for Dallas. Staubach was 13-for-22 for 213 with two interceptions—both by Jim Stienke. Punter Dave Jennings was awesome for the Giants, averaging 53.1 on 7 punts.

N.Y. – Hunt, 35 FG
Dallas – Dennison, 1 run (Fritsch kick)

December 7 GIANTS 0, Baltimore 21 (60,297) At Shea Stadium

Giants suffered first shutout in two years as playoff bound Colts, led by quarterback Bert Jones and RB Lydell Mitchell took a 21-0 halftime lead before Giant defense toughened in second half. On the other hand, the New Yorkers could not muster any kind of attack at all, and with the absence of the running game again, Craig Morton took another beating, getting sacked 8 times for 62 yards. Fumbles again hurt as Doug Kotar bobbled the ball away on the first play of the game, with the Colts gobbling it up on the NY 33 and then moving in for a Mitchell 9-yard TD run six plays later. The next score came only two series later when linebacker Jim White intercepted Morton at the NY 23 and took it in for the TD. The Giants got the Colts 10 thereafter, but Morton was again intercepted, this time by Jim Cheyunski at the goal line. The Colts then drove 96 yards for another tally, this one a 1-yard dive by Bill Olds. Jones was 10-for-17 for 90 yards before being kayoed by Jack Gregory's second sack of the game in the fourth period, while Mitchell rushed 23 times for 119 yards. Joe Dawkins had 42 yards to lead the Giants while Morton was 10-for-21 for 172 yards with Dawkins catching 4 for 50 yards.

December 14 GIANTS 28, New Orleans 14 (60,181) At Shea Stadium

New Yorkers snapped a five-game losing streak with an assortment of goodies which included a couple of long scoring strikes, a blocked punt and a 65-yard punt return for another touchdown. The defense also did its job by pouncing on Archie Manning with consistency, relegating him to a 14-for-34 afternoon, sacking him four times for 29 yards and intercepting a pair of passes. The Saints got on the board first when Rondy Colbert fumbled a punt which New Orleans covered at the Giant 33, then used six plays for the TD with Manning sneaking over from a yard away. Jim Stienke then blocked a Saints' punt to position Doug Kotar's one-yard TD dive, and then in the third period Colbert atoned for his earlier bobble by fielding a Tom Blanchard punt and racing 65 yards for the go-ahead score. Kotar followed that with a 46-yard burst for another TD and a 21-7 edge and after the Saints got closer on Manning's 4-yard TD pass to ex-Giant Don Herrmann, Morton iced the win with a 45-yard TD connection to Ray Rhodes. Craig hit 11-of-19 for 146 yards while Kotar had the year's best rushing day with 89 yards in 16 carries and Bob Tucker had his best afternoon of the season with 7 catches for 80 yards before being kayoed late in the game.

December 21 GIANTS 26, San Francisco 23 (46,039) At San Francisco

Giants closed the season on a winning note, whipping the 49ers in rainy and windswept Candlestick Park with a fourth period touchdown and tough defense in the stretch. An interception by Bobby Brooks set up the first TD with rookie Marsh White scoring from a yard out. Then Pat Hughes did his number, picking up a blocked field goal (by Brad Van Pelt) and returning it 59 yards to the SF 15. Doug Kotar zipped around end for 14 yards and the TD. Back came the 49ers on a 26-yard run by Sammy Johnson who shook off a tackle by Charlie Ford to score standing up, then Steve Mike-Mayer booted a 40-yard FG to close it to 13-10 at halftime. Craig Morton then found Ray Rhodes on a 30-yard TD connection for a 20-10 edge early in the third period, but the 49ers rallied on Larry Shreiber's 1-yard TD plunge and then a 19-yard TD pass from Tom Owen to Schreiber for a 23-20 lead in the final session. Dave Jennings then pinned the 49ers on their 1-yard line with a deft 47-yard punt and when the ex-49ers booted back, the Giants were in business at the SF 38 from where it took 8 plays to score with Larry Watkins busting over from a yard out and a 26-23 lead. Jack Gregory then made a key sack on Owen and the Giants ran out the clock for their fifth triumph. Morton was 16-for-30 for 168 yards and his TD toss to Rhodes was the 100th of his career. Kotar had 72 yards rushing while White, in his longest effort, impressed with 69 yards in 12 carries. Walker Gillette had 4 catches for 55 yards.
